Building an Online BusinessThe Internet is the great leveler in terms of business. Mom and Pops Internet home based businesses can really mix it with the most powerful businesses around. All it takes is dedication, the will to stay the course and above all knowledge, not only about how to run a business, but most importantly how to market it online by positioning your online presence so that it is has prevalence in the search engine searches.

- So How Do We Build an Internet Business?

- Where do we find Home based Business Ideas?

- Are there marketing resources and online business methods available to improve existing online businesses? You will find an answer to each of the above questions right here! Dear Friends, My name is Jake and helping business owners promote their online businesses is what I have been doing since 1996. In the following pages, I will give you examples of some of the websites I have helped build and promote and show you the search engine placements these websites are enjoying. These results are real and the traffic these placements generate substantial. What these customers and I have been able to achieve can also be achieved with you. A word of caution. Instant business riches are a thing of the past, particularly in the online business industry. Websites are competing against each other in an ever increasing competitive online business market, and nowadays, it is not uncommon to find that upwards of millions of web pages are competing for the same keyword phrases. My goal is to offer only legitimate online business marketing ideas and internet search engine recommendation that will show you how to become successful, If you are SERIOUS about becoming a successful online business owner, if you are COMMITTED and ready to STAY THE COURSE, and if you have modest RESOURCES to help you get there, then I can help you.
